++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Wet in some northwestern areas. Turning warmer for most.

Today:
Northwestern areas seeing rain at times, persistent for some western hills. Northeastern areas much drier but all northern areas windy with gales for some. Most southern areas rather cloudy but dry but brightening up for some places. Milder everywhere.

Tonight:
Most areas mild and cloudy. Very wet for some northwestern areas and very gusty across the north. The far north cooler and showery, while southern England may also turn clearer.

Monday:
Southern areas turning increasingly sunny, and warmer too inland. Central areas cloudy but with any drizzle fading. Still wet in western Scotland but drier and quite warm further east.

Outlook for Tuesday to Thursday:
Rain continuing across the northwest, edging further south on Wednesday. Dry elsewhere with sunny spells. Very warm in the south, cooler in the north and becoming cooler nationwide by Thursday.
